

Career Spotlight:

Jasmyn Sylvester, ACoM

The Shopping Center Group
Property Manager

Many in the industry would say you'd have to possess a little bit of crazy to be in the field of property management. I can attest to that statement. I did not set out to be a property manager, but the calling found me in college as a building manager for Georgia State University's Student and University Centers. Since then, I have grown to love what I do. I am in a field that continuously challenges me. As a Retail Commercial Manager, I have the opportunity to meet new people, engage local businesses and learn skills I never thought I would need. There is nothing better than curating long lasting relationships with your neighbors and community!"

There are many ways to explore careers and research specific requirements for the position in which you are applying. If you would like information on how to identify a professional in a specific area of expertise, consult your career counselor, advisor or professional. For additional information, email Debbie@careersbuildingcommunities.org